SOURCES FOR WATER TOWER

COMPILED BY RACHEL WHITEREAD
Molds made by spirits impressing their faces into soft wax. Produced by Franek Kluski, a Polish medium (c. 1930)

"Ghost" at Raynham Hall in Norfolk

Bacteria (streptococci) being devoured by white blood cells

A single cell of protoplasm
Study of ectoplasm, University of California, Los Angeles, 1972

Glacial berg off the coast of Antarctica

The Tower of Silence, Iran
Cloud formation two hours before tornado strikes

Funnel begins to form

Tornado draws water from a pond in its path

Tornado strikes and wrecks a ranch
Graduations under water appear to be closer together.

The saucer appears to be shallower when it contains water.

When in water, the ruler appears to be bent.

Hot-Water System for Small House.
Mar-made clouds from the exhaust gases of aeroplane engines

"Festoon clouds are a more drooping and sorrowful kind than the ones we call mackerel sky."

"Viewed from their own level, clouds are seen to be only large or small wisps of mist."

"On a mountain above the clouds there is clear sunshine, while in the valley below the cloud blanket it is sunless and gloomy."
"A fish that acts like a frog"

Minute jellyfish
CAST IN THREE SECTIONS.
THEN FILLED WITH GYPSUM OR WINE LIQUID (STAIN)